Updates as of 1/4/2006

The following three pages contain page-by-page updates for PassPorter Walt Disney World 2005. The remaining pages have either been updated in their entirety (pages 30, 32, and 116-117) or may have been missing from some copies of the book (pages 74 and 98). We suggest you print these pages and place them in your PassPorter. Please note this will be the last update to the 2005 edition as the new 2006 is now available. Thanks!

Date	Page	Change/Update
3/4	10	Disney Dining Experience is now available to annual passholders in addition to Florida residents. Rates for annual and seasonal passholders are just $50/year. Florida residents who are not annual or seasonal passholders are still $75/year.
3/4	11	The savings with advance purchase of tickets is now about $8-12 rather than 7-10% off.
3/4	19	Disney's Magical Express offers free transportation to and from Orlando International Airport and WDW! Beginning May 5, 2005 guests of Disney Hotels who sign up for this service will be able to check their bags when they depart from their home airport and upon arrival at the Orlando airport, skip baggage claim and proceed directly to a Disney Motor coach (similar to those used by the Disney Cruise Line). Your luggage will "magically" appear at your resort when you check-in! This service is FREE to guests of Disney Hotels who register at least 10 days in advance either through their travel agent, by calling Disney Reservations at 407-W-DISNEY or online at http://www.disneyworld.com .
3/21	30	Packages are now called "Magic Your Way"—see page 30 later in this file. (Updated on 3/21/05.)
3/4	32	Extra Magic Hour has expanded to include evening hours at the parks as well as morning hours. See page 32 later in this file.
3/4	67	Old Key West one-bedroom villas have one king bed, not a queen bed as shown in the room layout. (Studios still have two queen beds.)
3/4	74	Page 74 is missing from early releases of the book. See page 74 later in this file.
4/18	79-84	Disney's Port Orleans Resort no longer charges extra for trundle beds in the Alligator Bayou rooms

3/4	98	Page 98 is missing from early releases of the book. See page 98 later in this file.
3/4	116	Admission passes changed considerably with the introduction of Magic Your Way tickets on January 1. See pages 116-117 later in this file for updated coverage of Magic Your Way tickets.
4/18	121	Just in time for Disneyland's 50th Anniversary celebration, Cinderella Castle has taken on a whole new appearance. The castle is now adorned with Golden Statuettes of various characters from several of Disney's Classic Films, including the Cheshire Cat and White Rabbit, Peter Pan, Wendy and Tinker Bell, Flounder and Sebastian and many others. All roads at the Magic Kingdom lead directly to Cinderella Castle.
7/29	131	The Diamond Horseshoe Saloon now hosts a character meet-and-greet with Woody, Jessie, and Bullseye from "Toy Story 2." The air-conditioned saloon still has its good looks from years past, but the old stage show with dancing girls and snack food service is gone for good. This attraction has had difficulty finding its place in recent years, and we wouldn't be surprised if it changes yet again in the near future. Let's hope they bring back a live show with audience participation. Limited seating is available. Wheelchair accessible.
8/12	145	Epcot's newest attraction, Soarin', opened on May 5th. The ride is equipped with breathtaking, multi-sensory experience for anyone 40 inches and taller. Each ride cycle allows a total of 87 guests and roundtrip including the pre-flight briefing is approximately 10 minutes. Epcot closed and refurbished Ice Station Cool. It reopened in December 2005 as Club Cool.
7/29	158	Disney-MGM Studios opened Lights, Motors, Action! Extreme Stunt Show May 4th. This epic display of death-defying feats offers automobile and motorcycle stunts.

PassPorter® Walt Disney World® 2005

Date	Page	Change/Update
4/15	179	Downtown Disney has reopened Lego Imagination Center, located at the Marketplace shops in Spring of 2005 after a complete refurbishment, complete with a family and their dogs taking a walk and even the sea serpent that stands in the lake, has gotten a complete make over.
1/4	187	The Pleasure Island Jazz Club was replaced by an Irish pub called Raglan Road in October 2005. The full-service pub offers a full menu as well as solid helpings of authentic Irish atmosphere. A review of this restaurant appears in our January 5, 2006 newsletter.
3/4	189	Pleasure Island now has a "Single Club Ticket" for any club (EXCEPT the Comedy Club and The Adventurers Club) which costs $10.60 including tax. These single-club tickets are only available for purchase at Pleasure Island or Downtown Disney Guest Services. The price for the "Multi-Club Ticket" has increased to $22.32 including tax. The "Annual Passport" price has increased to $59.59 including tickets for new tickets and $48.94 including tax for renewals. A new option for the "Annual Passport" is the "Annual Pass Plus Guest". This pass allows the passholder to bring one guest into Pleasure Island with them. The cost of this pass is $105.44 including tax and $89.46 for renewals.
8/12	196	In 2005, Disney added another 20 acres of baseball, softball, and multi-sport fields under the sponsorship of Hess.
6/15	201	Disney Dining no longer requires a credit card to hold priority seating times on major U.S. holidays. In June, Disney stopped referring to "call-ahead seating" as Priority Seating. The new name is "Advance Reservations." Nearly all table-service restaurants allow the Priority Seating or Advance Reservations to be placed in advance to ensure an opening for you and your party. Children Meal's are now only offered to kids ages 3-9 (the maximum age was formerly 11 years). This change is to make the "children's age range" of 3-9 consistent across the Walt Disney World Resort.

3/4	202	The notice required to make special dietary requests at some Walt Disney World restaurants has changed. Resort table service restaurants now require 72 hours notice to accommodate special dietary needs such as allergies to gluten, shellfish, soy, dairy, nuts, or eggs. You can make these dietary requests by calling 407-WDW-DINE.
3/4	205	The "Once Upon A Time" character breakfast at Cinderella's Royal Table in the Magic Kingdom has extended its hours. The latest seating (previously 10:20 am) will be 11:15 am. To accommodate this change, lunch hours at this restaurant were shortened to 1:00–2:55 pm.
4/18	206	Plaza Pavilion at Magic Kingdom is now called Tomorrowland Terrace Noodle Station. Which is located in Tomorrowland next to Buzz Lightyear's Space Ranger Spin. The eatery appears to be open only seasonally at this point, however. We've eaten here and we rate it a 6–7.
8/12	208	Restaurant Akershus has been renamed to Akershus Royal Banquet Hall in keeping with its all-day character dining with princesses.
4/18	217	Studio Catering Company at Disney's MGM-Studios is now serving new items including flatbread sandwiches, cumin-spiced lamb kefta with baba ghanoush and harissa sauce. Also Tandori chicken with tomato and cucumber raita, and a steak "gyro"-style sandwich with roasted red pepper hummus and tomato and onion relish. They didn't forget about the kids either. Their new menu includes, a grilled chicken wrap with lettuce and cream cheese, or a chilled smoked ham wrap. Desserts are now including seasonal fruit tarts, lemon curd in a meringue shell, and panna cotta with strawberries. Studio Catering Company is located on Mickey Avenue right next to the Honey I Shrunk the Kids Movie Set.

3/4	248	Film processing is no longer be available in any Walt Disney World theme park or resort. The Camera Centers in each park have been equipped with technology that allows guests with digital cameras to download their photos from their memory cards to a CD. This technology will be rolled out to the resorts over the coming months.
3/4	252	The Sandcastle Club Children's Activity Center at the Beach Club Resort closed January 1, 2005 to accommodate the three-month refurbishment of the Atlantic Wear & Wardrobe Emporium. The Sandcastle Club is scheduled to re-open April 1, 2005. To pick up the slack, the Harbor Club Children's Activity Center at the near-by Boardwalk Resort re-opened January 1, 2005. You can book reservations at the Harbor Club by calling 407-WDW-DINE.

Disney resort ID is required for entry, along with a valid admission. Only certain parks and attractions are open for Extra Magic Hour on any given day, however. Finding Your Place at Disney's Polynesian Resort

BEST LOCATIONS

All first-floor rooms have patios, and all third-floor rooms have balconies. Most second-floor rooms have no balconies, with the exception of Tahiti, Rapa Nui, Tokelau, and Tonga, which were built later. Particularly nice water views can be found in Tuvalu, Hawaii, Tahiti, and Fiji. The first-floor rooms in Tahiti facing away from the water have pleasant, secluded patios, as do those in Rapa Nui and Rarotonga. If you opt for a standard view, we recommend Aotearoa with beautiful landscaping and an up-close view of the monorail. For added privacy, request a room on the top floor.

Shades of Green Resort

Shades of Green is a U.S. Armed Forces Recreational Center on Walt Disney World property, located near the Magic Kingdom theme park. Formerly The Disney Inn, this self-supporting resort is exclusively for active and retired military personnel in the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine, and Coast Guard, as well as those in the Reserves and National Guard. Department of Defense civilians and U.S. Public Health Officers are also eligible. The resort closed for renovations in 2003 and reopened March 2004 with bigger and better accommodations.

ROOMS

Nestled in the woods between two golf courses, the new Shades of Green offers 586 rooms with deluxe accommodations. Guest rooms remain among the largest on property at 450 sq. feet, accommodating up to five guests. Features include two queen-size beds, an armoire, and a TV, plus a sitting area with a daybed or sleeper sofa and table and chairs. Rooms have a refrigerator, coffeemaker, iron and ironing board, hair dryer, and an in-room safe. Internet access is available via a dataport (no high-speed access), or through the TV for $9.95/day. All rooms have either a balcony or patio. The resort (and all rooms) are smoke-free (smoking may be allowed on the balcony/patio). Eleven 1-3 bedroom suites are available, sleeping 6-8 guests each.

Park Passes

On January 2, 2005, Disney revamped their admission options, bringing more flexibility and more confusion. It's safest to budget $64/day for ages 10+ ($51/kids ages 3-9), the single-day/single-park base price for the major parks in 2005. The new "Magic Your Way" multiday passes emphasize flexibility and savings, so you can do more at a lower price. Here's the deal on passes (prices include tax):

Magic Your Way Tickets Actual 2005 Rates

Magic Your Way tickets are available for 1-10 days. Guests can stick to basic admission, or add one or more options at the time of purchase (see explanations below). Magic Your Way replaces single-day passes and all varieties of Park Hopper passes. A Magic Your Way Base Ticket ($64-$223) is good for entry to a single major park (Magic Kingdom, Epcot, Disney-MGM Studios, or Disney's Animal Kingdom) for each day of the ticket. Multi-day Base Tickets bring substantial discounts (see chart on page 117), so it pays to buy your admission all at once. Multi-day Base Tickets expire 14 days after the first use, but they do not have to be used on consecutive days. Buy only as much admission as you'll actually need for your visit to Orlando. Note that multi-day Base Tickets are imprinted with the guest's name, so they are not transferable. The Park Hopping option (add $37) lets you visit more than one major park on the same day, for the length of your ticket. Available with any Base Ticket, this option is costly unless you spend four or more days at the parks, but it's indispensable if you plan to visit all four parks in fewer than four days and it can maximize the enjoyment of any longer stay. The Magic Your Way Magic Plus option (add $48) adds a limited number of single-day, single-park admissions for the minor parks (Blizzard Beach, Typhoon Lagoon, Pleasure Island, DisneyQuest, and Wide World of Sports) to any Base Ticket. Each Magic Plus option is worth $10-36, depending on where you use it. Purchase this feature with 1-3 day Base Tickets and you receive 2 Plus Options, 4-5 day Base Tickets receive 3 options, 6 day Base tickets receive 4 options, 7-10 day Base Tickets receive 5 options. Regardless of how many Plus options you receive, the cost to add this feature is always the same. So long as you make a minimum of two visits to the more costly minor parks, you'll get your money's worth. The Premium option (add $85) is a combination of a Base Ticket, Park Hopping, and Magic Plus options (but at no additional savings). This is similar to the old Park Hopper Plus and Ultimate Park Hopper passes. The No Expiration option (add $10-$107) is best-suited for those who plan to save the unused portion of a multi-day ticket for a future vacation. The 14-day lifespan of a Base Ticket is generally enough for any one vacation. Prices for the various tickets are listed in the comparison chart on the next page.

Annual Pass Actual 2005 Rates

Unlimited admission to the four major parks for a full year, plus special privileges. An Annual Pass ($421/$358) costs less than two 3-day Magic Your Way Base Tickets with Park Hopping. Annual Passes also kick in great discounts on resorts (based on availability) and other privileges, such as a newsletter and events. See page 10 for details. There are also annual passes for the water parks ($106/$86), Pleasure Island ($59), DisneyQuest ($84/$67), and water parks plus DisneyQuest ($137/$105). You cannot share an Annual Pass (or any other multiday pass).

Premium Annual Pass Actual 2005 Rates

A Premium Annual Pass ($548/$466) offers the same privileges as the regular Annual Pass plus unlimited admission to the minor parks (including DisneyQuest) for $128 more. Five minor park visits cover the added cost. A Premium Annual Pass costs less than two, 3-day Premium Magic Your Way Tickets with a No Expiration option, and it is good for a full year.

PassPorter Deluxe: Cut, punch holes and insert in binder.
PassPorter Reg.: Cut, trim, add address line, and insert in PassPocket.

Old Ticket Media: Prior to "Magic Your Way," Disney issued "Park Hopper" passes. If you have an old Park Hopper with unused days on it, you may use or upgrade it.

Upgrades and Exchanges: Upgrade or apply the unused value of an unexpired park pass to a better pass. Visit Guest Relations (parks) or Guest Services (resorts) for details.

Magic Kingdom E-Ride Nights: With the Extra Magic Hour program for Disney resort guests being extended to evening hours (see page 32), E-Ride Nights appear to be discontinued. E-Ride Nights were a ticketed, after-hours event at the Magic Kingdom.

Advance Purchase Discounts: Discounts of between $8 and $12 are possible on tickets of five days or longer duration, if you purchase them in advance at Disney's web site, or include them in the cost of a vacation package. This is significantly less than the value of advance purchase discounts available in the past. Frankly, you could save more money by depositing the funds for your admission in an interest-bearing account prior to your vacation.

AAA: Members (see page 11) can expect some sort of discount (historically 5%) on some passes. You must purchase tickets directly from AAA to get the discount.

Florida Resident Discounts: It pays to live nearby. Florida Resident Seasonal Passes work like Annual Passes, but with blackout dates in busy seasons. There are some other special deals for Florida residents only.

Military Discounts: Discounts of roughly 7%–8% may be available on admission—check with your Exchange shop or MWR (Morale, Welfare, and Recreation) office. Some offices may need to pre-order your tickets, so we advise you check with them well in advance. Keep an ear out for special programs for active military personnel—in recent years, Disney offered all active military personnel a free five-day park hopper, with discounted admission for up to five family members or friends. To check on current specials and buy tickets, phone 407-939-4636, or just visit Shades of Green (see page 98) upon arrival.

Online Ticket Brokers—These folks sell legitimate, unused tickets at great rates. Try <http://www.ticketmania.com> (877-822-7299), <http://www.floridaorlandotickets.net> (888-723-2728), or <http://www.mapleleaftickets.com> (800-841-2837). Be wary of others hawking tickets, including eBay and timeshares.

Kids Ride Free (Well, Some Do): Kids under 3 are admitted to the parks for free (and get a free ride if the ride allows someone that small). Anyone 10 and over is considered an adult in the eyes of the ticket booth. Passes for kids ages 3-9 cost up to 20% less than adult passes. Also, the option-filled pass you buy for yourself is usually more than your child needs, especially if you use childcare programs (detailed on pages 252–253).

Pass Comparison Chart: Options and prices for your number of days in the parks. (Prices are the actual 2005 costs of adult, non-discounted passes, including tax.)
